Jette Goller Kloth

Founder & CEO of Acindria ApS
Aut.cand.psych., Neurologist.

Jette is the Cheif Psychologist at Acindria and has more than 25 years of experience in the clinical and and the corporate organization psychological field.

Jette has a Cand.Psych. from Aarhus University (1994) and is authorized through The Danish Supervisory Board of Psychological Practice (1996). She has a systemic degree from the John F. Kennedy University, CA (1992) as well as a former international trade and economics degree.

Jette specializes in stress treatments at a biological, psychological, psychosocial, and organizational level.

play your talent

Methods

Jette has a systematically appreciative approach towards her clients and towards the world. Jette does not judge what is right and what is wrong for the individual at the personal level. Jette focuses on working with developing positive energies as well as creating postive change and balance on every biological, psychological, psychosocial, and organizational level. She always bases her work on what makes most sense for the individual person, and she uses methods appropriately chosen for each given situation.

"I work strategically, systematically, cognitively, and experientially with methods within the individual framework."

Lectures, Consultings, Treatments

Jette offers different services regarding lectures, consultings, and treatments. She specializes in the balance between the professional and the private, and she magnifies the influcence which these two areas have on each other - with the purpose of releasing locked off energy. At the basis, she is strategic and development oriented

Innovation

Jette focuses on innovative processes in different areas and gathers knowledge in order to understand and create contact with each individual person, talent, and resource through each given context. In this process, Play Your Talent is a new and exciting innovational tool, which has been added to Jette's toolbox.

”

"With centring dialogue and respect for all differences, we are thorough and honest in the way we communicate with each other and the world around us."

Read more at www.acindria.com